Indication

Peer to peer (P2P) investments carry a certain degree of risks as most of the time, the funding provided are not collateralised. Whilst, the platform has done its due diligence and checks on the businesses who are seeking for funding on the platform, defaults are still expected to happen due to the many other factors governing the ability to repay which may not be known nor present during the credit evaluation process. Hence, the platform stresses that successful p2p investing can only be achieved when you diversify your investments across as many offerings as possible and reinvest your returns to make your capital work harder.

 Fundaztic recommends the following investing principles to minimise your risk:

- 1) Build fast - Do not over analyse and only choose certain types of offerings. Invest in as many loans as possible to build as big a portfolio as possible within the shortest time span. This is so that your repayments can be reinvested quicker which in turn will help compound and double your investment faster.
- 2) Spread thin - Using whatever capital you've set aside to invest with Fundaztic, spread it across as many loans as possible. We recommend investing in at least 100 loans as based on our internal analysis, 100 loans will be able to provide you a resilient portfolio.
- 3) Spread equal - Invest in equal or nearly equal amounts across all loans so that in the event of default, your impact on any note invested in would be about the same. Investing a larger than usual average amount increases risks is and in the event of a default on a loan that had been heavily invested in will create a huge dent on your earnings and may even result in losses on a portfolio basis.

It is important that all the 3 suggested principles are deployed and practiced simultaneously to build a highly resilient and profitable portfolio that would be able to withstand as such uncertainties as possible.

May your journey with Fundaztic be a fruitful one. Happy investing!
